

Costanza's SIMPLE

ITALIAN | CUCINA | PIZZERIA

Welcome to a true taste of Italy, where each dish reflects our Mediterranean roots—celebrated for simplicity, quality, and balance.

Italy is home to some of the world's longest-living people, thanks in part to the wholesome Mediterranean diet, centred on fresh, genuine ingredients that promote both flavour and wellbeing. In December 2025, Italian cuisine was officially recognised by UNESCO as an Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity, celebrating its deep traditions, convivial spirit, and cultural importance.

Our kitchen is built on the foundations of Italian cooking: extra virgin olive oil, homemade pasta, vine-ripened tomatoes, and the finest flours, chosen to showcase Italy's rich regional flavours.

Timeless classics such as Prosciutto di Parma, Parmigiano Reggiano, freshly baked bread, and fine regional wines honour traditions our family has proudly upheld since 1960.

Join us for an authentic Italian experience where passion and craftsmanship define every meal.

We kindly ask that all guests order at least one main course. As much as we would like to accommodate everyone, seating without dining impacts our ability to make the most of our space and maintain service quality. We appreciate your understanding and support.

OUR AUTHENTIC PIZZA DOUGH

What's Our Pizza Dough All About?

Our pizza dough is made from top quality Italian flours and traditional toppings. It is designed to be the lightest, most digestible pizza all whilst following tradition. Our signature dough is made up of only 5 simple ingredients:

YEAST FLOUR WATER
A PINCH OF SALT EXTRA VIRGIN OLIVE OIL

That's it! No sugar, no additives, no other junk!

We put a lot of work into our dough to make it easier to digest, doing the hard part so your stomach doesn't have to!

Pizza is often seen as unhealthy fast food, which goes against Italian tradition. The quality of ingredients and how the dough is prepared are key. In fact, Italian pizzas typically use no more than 3 ingredients. When made properly and with care, pizza can be a healthy, guilt-free, balanced meal.

TIP: OUR PIZZA SLICES SHOULD BE FOLDED LENGTHWISE AND SUPPORTED BY THE CRUST FOR THE PERFECT BITE

ITALIAN INGREDIENTS GLOSSARY

Mozzarella di bufala: mozzarella made from the milk of Italian water buffaloes. Cooking it at high temperatures can cause it to lose its distinct creamy texture and delicate flavour, releasing too much moisture and turning it rubbery or chewy. That's why bufala is best enjoyed fresh, uncooked, and paired with simple ingredients like tomatoes, basil, and a drizzle of olive oil.

Pecorino: a traditional Italian cheese made from sheep's milk ("Pecora" = sheep); its bold flavour complements the richness of traditional pasta sauces.

Parmigiano: a renowned Italian cheese made from cow's milk. Characterized by its hard, granular texture and complex flavour profile. A must-have ingredient in many pasta dishes

Scamorza: an Italian semi-soft cheese made from cow's milk with a firm texture and a slightly tangy flavour. It is typically shaped into a pear-like form and is often smoked ("Scamorza Affumicata"), giving it a distinct, rich taste and aroma.

Fior di latte: fresh, creamy mozzarella made from cow's milk, popular on pizza for its mild, milky flavour, smooth texture, and ability to melt, making it a favourite choice in classic pizza Napoletana.

Stracciatella: a creamy, shredded cheese filling found inside burrata, originating from Puglia. Made by mixing shreds of fresh mozzarella curds with cream, creating a rich, silky texture and a delicate, milky flavour. The name comes from the Italian word "stracciare", meaning "to shred," describing its soft, stringy appearance.

Burrata: a fresh Italian cheese made from cow's milk, combining a delicate mozzarella shell with a creamy, rich interior of stracciatella (soft curds and cream). When sliced open, the creamy centre oozes out, making it ideal for enjoying as a fresh topping on pizzas after baking.

Nduja: a spicy, spreadable pork salami originating from Calabria

Prosciutto: an Italian dry-cured ham that is thinly sliced and served uncooked; its light saltiness makes it perfect for antipasti and as a topping on pizzas

Guanciale: a traditional Italian cured pork cheek ("Guancia" = cheek). Seasoned with black pepper, rosemary, and other herbs, then aged for weeks, creating a rich, savoury flavour. A staple in Italian authentic Carbonara and Amatriciana pasta.

Pomodoro San Marzano: a specific variety of plum tomatoes prized for its sweet flavour, low acidity, and meaty texture. Grown in the volcanic soil of the San Marzano region near Naples. Protected by a DOP ("Denominazione di Origine Protetta"), ensuring their cultivation in this specific area under traditional methods.

Mortadella: a beloved Italian cold cut from Bologna, crafted from finely ground pork, delicately seasoned with spices, pistachios, or peppercorns, a must try on focaccia.

Ricotta Salata: a firm, lightly salted Italian ricotta with a clean, milky flavour and crumbly texture

Taleggio: a creamy, tangy Italian cow's milk cheese with a pungent aroma.

Gorgonzola: A classic Italian blue cheese, creamy and bold, with a rich, tangy flavour and a smooth, melt-in-the-mouth texture.
